PRIMARY ELECTION is next Tuesday when candidates for election will be selected. The offices run from United States senator and governor down to county coroner.

Of course every candidate is hoping to be elected but of course some must be disappointed. Most of them are out working for votes but we have found that it is poor practice to promise your vote to anyone. One might change his mind by the time he enters the voting booth with a ballot in his hands. It's dangerous to make political promises.

Especially is this true when it comes to local candidates—persons we all know intimately. Take for instance the Republican candidates for county clerk—Mr. Anderson and Roy Holmberg—all fine young men. One might be willing to vote for every one of them, but that cannot be done. You may only vote for one, so why hurt the other three's feelings by saying you won't vote for him. Better promise none and when you enter the voting booth vote for the one you feel is the best qualified and will make the best officer. Same applies with all other contested offices. Make no promises then you won't have anything to explain. It's nobody's business how you vote. If you don't know anything about the candidates ask others in whom you may have confidence and who would be impartial. Then if you are satisfied, vote as your conscience may dictate.

MR. R. R. SQUIRES of Cleveland, whose summer home is on the North Branch near Lovells, was a caller at the Avalanche office Tuesday and suggests the importance of better forest fire protection. Hundreds of thousands of dollars have been invested in homes along these rivers and still the fire protection there isn't what it should be. At the time of the recent forest fire near Lovells it was some time before any assistance arrived to help to head it off. A hurry-up call to Lovells found the commissioner out on the job and before he could be located and a crew organized the fire had assumed dangerous proportions. A well equipped fire crew should be located right at Grayling or some other central point where it would be available for fires in all parts of the river regions and for the Hartwick pines region. We are heartily in sympathy with Mr. Squires and with his plan. There is hardly adequate forest fire protection for right here is the very heart of nature's most wonderful playground. The loss of forests in this region means the entrenchment of our recreational resources and one of the most dependable sources of patronage for our local business houses. Here is a matter in which our Board of Trade might be of assistance by bringing it to the attention of the State Conservation department.

RUSTIC DANCE PALACE TO CONTINUE OVER TWO MORE WEEKS

Johnson's rustic dance palace near Presbenville will extend their fall dance season to include four more autumn season dances on week end periods, Saturday and Sunday nights, Sept. 6 and 7, also Sept. 13 and 14. These after season dances are given by Mr. Johnson of Houghton Lake. For the dance fans spending the late vacation season in this vicinity, Fuller's dance bands will be held over to play for these special dances. These dates are your last chances to dance at the Rustic this year as the pavilion closes after Sept. 14th.

Vote for Clarence B. Johnson for county clerk.—Adv.

Dr. and Mrs. R. B. Howard returned home Wednesday from Louisville, Ky., where they had been taking a vacation for a month, visiting relatives and looking after business matters. Dr. Howard reports the drought in the south is appalling and that crops will be far below normal. The tobacco crop is nearly a total failure and reports there are that cigarettes will be 25c per package next year.

Carl Parsons and Arthur E. Wakeley, Jr. have purchased the Earl Nelson service station on Cedar street one block north of Michigan avenue, taking possession Saturday, August 30th. Mr. Nelson says he hasn't decided what he will do but has several plans in view. Mr. Parsons has been the bookkeeper at the Jess Schoonover garage for the past three years. Mr. Wakeley is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur E. Wakeley and for the past four years has been working as a mechanic for the General Motors Trucking Co., at Detroit. The new owners say that they will, besides servicing cars, do general auto repairing, tire repairing and battery work. This is one of the prettiest and most attractive service stations anywhere along the trunkline highway. The building is decorated to resemble brick—orange with black stripes and the front cement block pillars are of the same colors. Floral boxes and vines adorn the front and altogether makes a very pleasing service station. Our best wishes to these two young men whom are entering the business circles of their own home town.

When the gears on her car locked, Mrs. Emory Craft, assisted by Mrs. S. Galloway attempted to get it started by pushing the car and when it did start it was found that the car was in gear and it started down Main street faster than the ladies could follow. Dashing across the intersection at Cedar street, just missing a large truck, the car proceeded to in front of the Mercantile Co. store where it headed in and came with a bang up against the corner of the plate glass window where it stopped and the engine was killed. A young Case child was in the car but escaped without injury except for a jarring up. The damage to the store building was nearly nothing and the car suffered nothing greater than a broken headlight and bumper. Mrs. Galloway who followed the car in its journey came nearly being a victim of the truck, stopping just in time to avoid being hit. Fortunately nobody was injured in the incident and but little damage done. A car without a driver running loose on Main street is no joking matter and almost anything might happen from it.

FUNERAL OF N. R. GOODAR HELD AT ARMADA

With the passing of Mr. Newton B. Goodar at his resort home on the AuSable last Thursday, this vicinity loses one of its best known and highly esteemed citizens. Mr. Goodar was known to hosts of sportsmen throughout the state who had spent many pleasant days with him and his good wife at their resort known as the Goodar Macomb County Club. Mr. Goodar passed away suddenly shortly after noon last Thursday, as he was doing some work near the river in front of the clubhouse. His body was discovered lying in the water nearby where he had fallen, and a physician who was called announced that death was due to heart trouble.

The remains were taken to the funeral home, Rev. Townsend officiating at the last rites. Mrs. Frank Goodar accompanied relatives from Grayling to attend the funeral and there were many members of the Club and other friends from Mt. Clemens and Detroit in attendance.

The large profusion of flowers, tokens of sympathy, bespoke the high esteem in which the deceased was held.

Mr. Goodar was born in Richmond, Macomb County, September 15, 1865 to Hiram and Helen Wells-Goodar. His youth was spent there and in 1886 he was united in marriage to Stella V. Corbin. Mr. and Mrs. Goodar came to Grayling in 1901 and purchased the land on the river which has been their home since.

Surviving besides his widow is one brother, Charles of Richmond. Mrs. Goodar expects to continue the Club and has with her for the present her sister, Mrs. S. Henderson, husband and son Don, who will remain indefinitely.

The sympathy of the community in which Mr. and Mrs. Goodar have so long resided is extended to the bereaved widow and other relatives.

MORE ABOUT DIPHTHERIA

If I were to tell you that there lives a man and woman, his wife, with three children under the age of 5 years, and that those children were menaced daily by possible illness, crippling and death, you would be horrified.

Suppose then you were told that these parents had within their reach a weapon that would protect their children against this threat, you would breathe a sigh of relief. If you were still told that they were unaware of the existence of such protection, wouldn't you want to know why?

Finally say they shrugged their shoulders indifferently and declined to pay any attention to this weapon, what would you think?

This threat is diphtheria, and can be overcome by toxin anti-toxin, given in three small doses a week apart. Parents should grasp this opportunity—speak to the teacher in your school. Toxin anti-toxin will be given in your school to pre-school children as well as to those in school.

My Father
God was good to me in that He gave me a good father. The honor of his soul and the integrity of his life put me under heavy obligation to keep that name untarnished.

One of his favorite sentences was, "No man can live WRONG and die RIGHT." The matter of being a Christian was infinitely more than accepting a creed or belonging to the Church militant although he was a regular attendant. The Christian life had to do with an achieving life. It related itself to all of life's activities. And in his recent death I have seen how tremendously successful such a life is in the hour of dissolution. He had lived RIGHT, and he could NOT die WRONG. Beautiful in life, he was transfigured in death. Like Stephen of old, his face shone. That argument I have ever seen for immortality. No skeptic can persuade me as to the falsity of the faith of the church in the hereafter. I KNOW that it is the greatest reality in the world.

AGRICULTURAL NOTES

Drinking vessels in the poultry house should be kept on a platform about 12 to 18 inches from the floor. This arrangement keeps the water more sanitary. Make the platform of slate and large enough so that the birds can stand on it comfortably while drinking.

You can make a good homemade damp-proofing paint by dissolving paraffin in gasoline or kerosene warmed to 80 degrees. Use a 10 to 20 per cent solution (10 to 15 pounds of paraffin per gallon) and apply several coats. The lighter solution is better for compact natural stone and the heavier for brick or concrete. Be careful to do work of this kind only where there is good ventilation, natural or electric light, and no fire.

Don't let livestock pasture first-year alfalfa and allow only light grazing on second-year growth. No stand of alfalfa should be closely grazed as grazing down the crowns often kills the plants. Don't turn cattle on an alfalfa field when the ground is wet or frozen. If a stand has become thin or patchy, plow up the field and reseed it after it has been planted to some other crop for a year or so. Attempts to patch up poor stands of alfalfa are usually futile.

Feeding grain to sheep is seldom profitable when grazing is good. Sometimes flocks maintain good condition and lambs can be marketed without any grain. About 100 pounds of grain in a year for one ewe, and her lambs is the most that can be used profitably under any conditions. The method that is most economical and most likely to keep the flock in good condition provides frequent changes of pasture and grazing crops, with winter rations of leguminous hays and some succulent feeds. If any grain is fed, give it in winter and after the lambs are born.

Thorough plowing under in the fall of crop residues is the most practical means of controlling two widespread tomato diseases, early blight and leaf spot. When properly done, spraying and dusting are effective. The necessary applications are expensive and are difficult under some weather conditions. These two blights are caused by fungi that live chiefly on dead plant materials, and complete destruction of crop debris is the most economical means of depriving the fungi of food. Experiments conducted by the U. S. Department of Agriculture indicate that tomatoes grown on fall-plowed land are freer from blights than those grown on spring-plowed land.

Utilization of farm by-products, wastes, and surplus crops through feeding to livestock, may mean the difference between profit and loss in feeding. More than $100,000,000 worth of corn stover and straws are burned, plowed under, allowed to rot in stacks, or otherwise wasted each year in the United States. Large

Couldn't Pass Up That Chance for Easy Money

"One reason why auto insurance rates are no cheaper than they are," says an auto club official, "is the tendency of most people to magnify minor accidents in the hope of obtaining larger adjustments. Most of the insurance companies give the policy holder the benefit of the doubt and therefore base their premium rates accordingly."

"I am sorry to say that the majority of policy holders seem to be like Jones."

"Jones, you know, had been in a collision but it was so insignificant that he passed it up without a thought. Next day, however, he met a friend who asked:

"Hello, Jones, I thought you were seriously injured in an accident yesterday?"

"So I discovered when I read the morning papers," admitted Jones, adding, "I'm on my way home to bed right now and have sent for my lawyer."

Boiling Point of Water

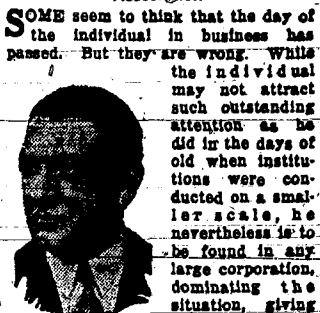

The boiling point of water varies with the pressure. In water under ordinary conditions it is 212 degrees Fahrenheit or 100 degrees Centigrade, but it becomes less with lessened atmospheric pressure, as in ascending a mountain, being lowered about one degree Fahrenheit for every 500 feet of ascent or one degree Centigrade for every 900 feet. The boiling point of water at the summit of Mt. Blanc (15,781 feet) is about 85 degrees Centigrade. It would take less heat to raise the temperature of water to 95 degrees Centigrade than it would take to raise it to 100 degrees Centigrade. Thus water would boil more quickly at higher level.

Metal of a Man

It is by previous trial and error, tried emergencies that the native metal of a man is tested. Famous example: Lowell.

THE INDIVIDUAL YET NEEDED BY BUSINESS

By JOHN G. LONSDALE
President American Bankers Association

SOME seem to think that the day of the individual in business has passed. But they are wrong. While the individual may not attract such outstanding attention as he did in the days of old when institutions were conducted on a smaller scale, he nevertheless is to be found in any large corporation, dominating the situation, giving orders here, co-operating there and shouldering the responsibility of keeping a large group of lieutenants, captains and privates working in unison and moving forward under the banner of progress. And all of these are held accountable to the public because the public has entered into a partnership agreement with the corporation through purchase of stock.

Welfare of Workers
Even in the gigantic mergers that have taken place within the last two years there remains more than ever the necessity for a leader, an aggressive personality, whose duty it is to see that basic principles are not forgotten, that the rights and privileges of the individual workers and the customers they serve are as well protected for as in the smaller business units.

It is gratifying to note that our corporations are giving more and more concern to the welfare of their workers. Numerous benefit organizations have been formed, opportunities offered for advancement of education and position, hospital service established and insurance and retirement pensions provided.

This general humanitarian movement in reality is the outgrowth of analysis, which has disclosed the need of improving the well-being of our individual workers, realizing at the same time that our institutions will benefit.

PREPAREDNESS IN BUSINESS

By R. S. HECHT,
American Bankers Association.

My observations for many years, both as an employee and as an executive, have convinced me that the reason some men and women go ahead and others do not is that some keep themselves constantly prepared to accept and fulfill larger duties and responsibilities as they offer, and some do not.

Grant, as we must, that there is a certain element of luck in the conditions under which opportunity for advancement comes. It is not a matter of chance, however, but of preparation. It is each individual's own state of preparedness which determines his ability to seize opportunity if and when it comes, and having seized it, to succeed in meeting the greater demands which it inevitably places upon him.

Real advancement never means going ahead to easier tasks, but always to harder ones. Opportunity for advancement is worthless unless the acceptance of it is accompanied by the ability to carry with you the abilities and qualifications that prepare you to meet the heavier exactions that are an inherent part of opportunity.

It is far better to go into action in the field of enlarged responsibility prepared and qualified, rather than that you and the institution you work for shall be exposed to the hazard of your having to build up to new responsibilities after having assumed them.

The new spirit of all business seeks to prepare its people in advance through education for the higher duties it holds in store for them.

Bank Bandits Active

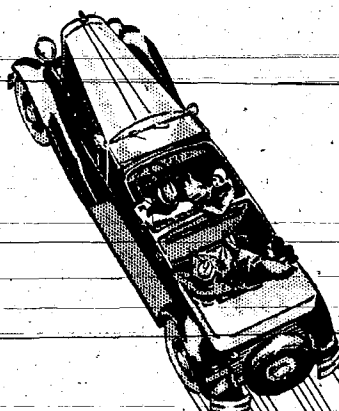

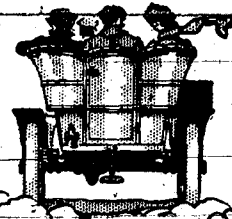

The greatest number of bank raids on American banking ever recorded in the figures of the protective department of the American Bankers Association were reported during the six months ending last February. Bank members of the association reported for investigation 311 forgery cases, 107 holdup robberies, 15 burglaries, 2 sneak thefts and 3 mortgage swindles while non-member banks, numbering less than half the total enrolled in the association, suffered 85 holdup robberies and 9 burglaries, non-members being burglarized or held up once for every 50 banks, as compared with once every 154 members banks. The association detective agents caused the arrest of 143 of the 339 bank criminals apprehended during the period covered.

The association's report on these conditions urges support of the movement to provide city police departments with radio-equipped cruising automobiles which have proved particularly effective in Cleveland and Detroit in the broadcasting of alarms and the closing in on criminals immediately after or even in the midst of the perpetration of crimes. Last year the average time elapsed between the receipt of radio calls by these cars and the 1935 arrests which followed was one minute and forty-two seconds, the report says.

For a dozen years the internationalists have been preaching the duty of America to neglect home interests and attend to the welfare of the rest of the world, and we have been doing so good a job that they have about got Uncle Sam out on the corner with a tin-cup, which would be a cheerful sight to those who keep telling us that we ought to love and boost every country but our own.

THE MOTOR CAR NO LONGER buttons up the back

Enough to make anybody a little uneasy—riding on a seat that opened backwards. Even so, side doors for the rear seat were an innovation, a new style, copied from foreign cars. Mechanical changes have been even more radical. But as the automobile developed, one oil—Shell Motor Oil—has regularly anticipated every lubrication requirement. Shell Motor Oil does not have to be corrected periodically to fit new conditions. It is always a step ahead of today's demands . . . is ready now for next year's cars. CRUOKS BAG $50,000 BY PETTY SWINDLE

Sell Coyote Scaps to Kansas Counties.

Topeka, Kan.—Four men are under arrest at Hill City, Kan., charged with perpetrating the greatest raid upon the public treasury of this state that has ever been consummated in the Middle West. The four men are believed to have defrauded 85 Kansas counties of at least $50,000 in two years, and the practice is believed to have been carried on for at least 14 years. Two of the men have been identified as conducting the same scheme that long ago.

The four men are under arrest on the charge of defrauding 85 of the 105 counties in the state and also for perjury used in committing the fraud.

Buy 'Em Wholesale.

The scheme used was the sale of coyote scaps to the counties and the collection of the bounty. The men purchased these coyote scaps from fur dealers in New York and other eastern points and then swore that the animals were killed in Kansas and collected the bounty.

The coyote is a predatory animal for which the state authorizes the counties to pay a bounty of $1 for each scalp. It is intended to encourage hunters to trap and kill the coyotes. The animals are harmless as far as men and the larger farm animals are concerned, but they kill and maim thousands of chickens, young pigs, calves, and sheep every year. The bounty funds are raised by general taxation.

The four men had their headquarters in Kansas City, Mo. They would receive shipments of the coyote scaps at various points and then proceed to sell these scaps in small lots to the counties for the bounty price. They would sell from 18 to 47 in each county. During a single week the officers traced the sales of 1,044 scaps to 30 counties. The shipments which finally landed the men in jail were made to Colby and Hays. Each shipment was collected $62.50 and it is believed that the men were paying the fur dealer from 25 to 50 cents for each scalp. The scaps came wrapped in moth balls.

Twenty Counties Escape.

Kansas and Nebraska are the only middle western states offering so large a bounty for coyote scaps. Oklahoma, Texas, New Mexico, Arizona, Colorado and other states with much wild land where the coyotes roam, do not offer the bounty. As near as the officers have been able to learn the fur dealers buy coyote skins in these other states and then cut off the scalp and ship them to Kansas for the four men to sell to the counties for the bounty. The 20 counties where coyotes have not been seen for years are never molested.

Marriage is like a cantaloupe. You never know whether it is worth trying until you have tried it.

Jersey to Build Traps for Japanese Beetle

Hackensack, N. J.—A mechanical trap will be used against the Japanese beetle, which has attacked Bergen county recently, leaving a score of trees in Central avenue here standing stripped of their leaves. The trap is believed, will be chief among the recommendations to be made by Dr. F. H. G. Rex, supervisor of Japanese beetle suppression in New Jersey, and by C. J. Hendler, state entomologist, who have just completed an investigation of the pest.

It is expected that a device will be attached to the trunk of a tree to lure on the beetle and drop it into a tank of chemical compound at the foot of the tree. So far the parasite has not attacked the truck gardens.

Number 11 Follows Lead in All His Activities

Prosper, Texas.—Eleven is a lucky number for N. C. Settle, Jr., of this place.

Born on the eleventh minute, eleventh hour, eleventh day of the eleventh month of 1911, he was, at the eleventh grade in the Prosper high school in a class containing 11 pupils.

He wears No. 11 numeral on his basketball sweater and plays 11 musical instruments. His mail is received at Box 11, Prosper. He wears a No. 10 shoe but says a No. 11 fits him better.

Gives Money to Charity; Lives in Dire Poverty

London, England.—Edwin Duvilly, fifty-two, gas works employee, lived the life of a recluse for years in his brother's house. He bought a pound of tea and a pound of sugar once a year; two loaves of bread lasted him for the week.

When he died of heart disease police found he had been giving all his savings to charity. Between 500 and 600 postal money-order stubs in favor of various charities were found in his rooms.

Son Forts Burial Debt Forty-Six Years Old

Vincennes, Ind.—A forty-six-year-old debt, which was incurred at the funeral of June Wilson, a negro woman, was paid a few days ago when son called at a local undertaking establishment and settled the account. The proprietors had forgotten it.

Mediterranean Sea

The Mediterranean is more properly called a sea than an ocean. It is, from the geological standpoint, the remains of a vast ocean. Since it is now hemmed in by land on all sides it is never described by the term sea than ocean.

"NO MEDICINE IN THE WORLD LIKE KONJOLA"

Says Steamboat Captain, Age 83, Who Finds New Health in Modern Compound

CAPTAIN A. P. GALLINO

"To me there is no medicine in the world like Konjola," said Captain A. P. Gallino, 11437 Wisconsin street, Detroit. "I harbored various ills in my system for years before I found the right medicine. My digestion was poor and I gained little strength from what I ate. Bloating pains and severe headaches were the penalty I invariably paid for eating. I am 83 years of age and I felt my health failing rapidly."

"I had little hope that Konjola would help but this medicine gave me the surprise of my life. While on the second bottle my digestion began to improve and headaches disappeared. After that, improvement came rapidly until today, after taking six bottles, it seems difficult to believe that I was ever ill. Thanks to Konjola, I am still on the active list as the captain of a Great Lakes steamboat."

There is nothing exceptional in the case of Captain Gallino. Konjola often appears at its best in ailments of the aged. It is all pure medicine and every drop works.

Konjola is sold in Grayling, Michigan at the Mac & Gidley drug store and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

Cain's Wife

No mention is made of Abel having a wife or child, in the chapter of Genesis devoted to the story of Cain and Abel. It is assumed, however, in the same chapter that the earth already had a considerable population, whose vengeance Cain feared, for which reason a mark was set upon him. There are various explanations by Bible scholars of this classical problem.

Gigantic Star
Antares (Alpha Scorpii) is the largest star of which we have reasonably accurate measurements. Its diameter being about 400,000,000 miles; in volume it is 100,000,000 times as large as the sun and 125,000,000,000,000 times as large as the earth. The distance is probably 350 light years. This distance is 200,000,000 times as great as that of the sun from the earth, or about 1,200,000,000,000 miles.

Interesting Events In Grayling 23 Years Ago

INTERESTING ITEMS OF NEWS GATHERED FROM THE FILES OF THE AVALANCHE OF 23 YEARS AGO.

Thursday, September 5, 1907
Mr. and Mrs. N. P. Olson are doing Detroit and the State Fair this week.

Born, at their home in this village, Saturday, Aug. 31, to Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Blaine, a son.

Feldhauser Bros. are equipped with new machinery for threshing and clover hulling. Rapid and first class work. Won't stay long enough to eat up your crop. Try them.

Rev. Wm. Coombs will leave Frederick for Davisburg, for the ensuing year. He will be succeeded at Frederick by Rev. G. W. Terhune.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jennings, Tuesday, Sept. 3, a son, Mr. Jennings says he can stay as long as he will pay his board.

Married, Sept. 2, at the church, Miss Lucy Brick and Delphine Charney, Rev. Fr. Reiss officiating. The happy pair took the night train south and were liberally showered with rice and good wishes.

Died—Last Friday morning, Carl Larson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nels Larson, aged 2 years.

Karl J. Johnson has gone to the Ferris School at Big Rapids to take a course in bookkeeping and stenography. Of course he will succeed, as all of the Grayling boys get there. Though a farmer boy he has laid the foundation for thorough work.

Mr. Powell (Bill) was a caller at our sanctum last Thursday, to bid us good-bye before starting his season's work, and to subscribe for the Avalanche, so Mrs. Powell can keep informed of Grayling happenings. We hope to see them return in as good health and spirits as they enjoyed when they left.

Word was received here last Sunday of the death of Mrs. H. H. Woodruff of Rosebush. She has been an invalid for years, and for some weeks past her condition has been acknowledged as serious, but when the final blow came, though watched for, it seemed sudden.

Geo. Hartman of South Branch was in the village Saturday, the first time in a year. He is a little fatter than ever and as good natured, is satisfied in every way with his three-hundred and sixty acre farm, and seventeen hundred acre pasture, which is all fenced for his sheep and cattle.

Died—At the residence of his daughter, Mrs. Geo. Hartman, in South Branch, Friday, Aug. 30, Henry Y. Euler, aged 75 years.

Mrs. Freida Niles started last week for Effingham, Ill., to attend a special school. The evening before she left she was called to the home of Wm. McCullough, where she met with a genuine surprise from her Sunday School class, who were all present for that purpose. The evening was spent most pleasantly with music and sociality. Light refreshments were served, and the class presented her with a beautiful souvenir, testifying their loving regard. She will be missed by many friends and in the church work.

NEWS REVIEW OF CURRENT EVENTS

Dictator Leguia of Peru Is Ousted by a Military Revolution.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD

ELEVEN years of dictatorship by Augusto B. Leguia was enough for Peru, or at least for the army; so he has been ousted from the office of president, together with his entire government.

The revolutionary movement started in the province of Arequipa, where the troops, led by Lieut. Col. Sanchez Cerro, arrested some of their officers and took control of Arequipa, third city of the republic. The revolt spread rapidly to other provinces and was easily successful everywhere. Meanwhile there was surface tranquility in Lima, the capital, and President Leguia continued the usual business.

But this didn't last long. A military junta got busy in Lima, the cabinet was forced to resign, and a few hours later Leguia himself gave up his office and took refuge on the cruiser Almirante Grau. The vessel steamed away, the intention being to land the deposed dictator at some foreign port; but the junta sent a wireless threat to have the officers court-martialed if they did not return within 48 hours, and they yielded. At this writing the fate of Leguia is uncertain. It was understood he would be put on trial for his "misdeeds," this course being insisted on by the students of Lima and also by Cerro.

A temporary government was set up in Lima with Gen. Manuel María Ponce at its head. However, Cerro went to the capital city within a few days, and his Arequipa junta was recognized as the real government of the country. Before resigning, Leguia designated first General Martinez and then General Sarmiento as heads of a new cabinet, but the military revolutionists would accept neither. Leguia thereupon wrote his resignation, saying:

"I hereby close another chapter in Peru's history."
The State department in Washington was informed that Lieut. Com. Harold F. Grow, U. S. naval reserve, of Greenville, Mich., and Elmer Faucett of Savona, N. Y., both aviators, were being detained by the Peruvian revolutionists. Ferdinand L. Mayer, American charge d'affaires at Lima, was instructed to take "all appropriate measures" to secure Grow's release. Though the two men were held as prisoners, the State department was not much concerned about their safety. Mr. Mayer in a message to Washington, said the revolutionists had promised to protect foreign nationals and maintain order.

A report published by the Treasury department in Washington disclosed that the internal revenue receipts for the fiscal year June 30 last, were a little more than $100,000,000 more than the receipts of the previous year.
Most of the increase was registered in income taxes, which showed a gain of $75,000,000 over the 1929 fiscal year, notwithstanding the fact that the 1 per cent tax reduction voted by congress last December affected the quarterly payments of taxes paid in March and June of the present calendar year. This increase was attributed largely to the exceptional prosperity enjoyed by corporations and individuals in the calendar year 1929, against which the taxes collected in these two quarters were assessed.

There was diversity of opinion as to whether or not it would be advisable or possible to continue the 3 per cent reduction for another year. President Hoover wishes this to be done if it can, and the Republican leaders in congress are ready to support legislation to that effect. If the President recommends it, no definite statement as to whether business conditions will make this continuance possible has been issued from the Treasury department, but Secretary Mellon and some of the cabinet under him are said to be very doubtful as to its wisdom, fearing that a deficit would be created due to reduced customs receipts and shrinkage in current revenues.

UNLESS belated returns change the figures materially, Senator Cole Blaise and James F. Byrne will be the candidates in a run-off Democratic primary in South Carolina to choose the man to fill the seat now held by Blaise. In an eight-cornered race for the gubernatorial nomination Olin D. Johnston was well in the lead. In both cases nomination is considered equivalent to election.

Democrats of Idaho in state convention nominated Joseph Taylor of Emmet to oppose Senator Borah. The Republicans re-nominated Borah and Representative Burton L. French and Addison T. Smith by acclamation.

For the Republican gubernatorial nomination in California James Rolph, Jr., mayor of San Francisco, had a good lead over Gov. C. C. Young and Burton Pitts, district attorney of Los Angeles. Young was endorsed by the California Anti-Saloon league, which explained that Pitts also was dry, "but something had to be done to defeat Rolph."

Mississippi Democrats re-nominated Senator Pat Harrison and the slight sitting representatives in the lower house.

In the run-off Democratic primary in Texas Mrs. Miriam Ferguson was decisively defeated by Ross S. Sterling for the gubernatorial nomination.

PERHAPS a dozen naval yards and shore properties will be eliminated as no longer necessary to the efficient operation of the naval establishment, or at least drastically cut down in their activities, as a result of the survey made by Assistant Secretary of the Navy Jahneke and chiefs of navy bureaus. Several shore establishments probably will be consolidated and all possible obsolete equipment scrapped. This will be a part of the Navy department's contribution to the President's retrenchment program, and naval officers say it will save millions of dollars.

The navy yard at Charleston, S. C., the naval plant at New Orleans, the naval ordnance plant at South Charleston, W. Va., and the naval torpedo plant at Alexandria, Va., are shore properties virtually certain to be affected by the economy survey. In the past all efforts to close shore properties along the Atlantic coast have been blocked by political pressure.

NOT more than fifteen hundred members of the Grand Army of the Republic were able to attend the annual encampment that was held in Cincinnati, and hardly a thousand could take part in the grand parade which always is the feature of the gathering. All that could muster the strength walked in the procession, for those old boys resent the intimacies of use and hate to be carried in automobiles on that occasion.

The United States marine band was present by special act of congress and played at all the important functions of the encampment.
Annual meetings were held by the six subsidiary organizations of the G. A. R.—Army Nurses of the Civil War, National Women's Relief Corps, Ladies of the G. A. R., Daughters of Union Veterans, Sons of Union Veterans, and its auxiliary.

MELVIN A. TRAYLOR of Chicago, Nicholas Dosker of Louisville and Morton Prentiss of Baltimore were appointed at a conference with President Hoover to prepare recommendations for utilizing available financing agencies for drought relief. Their work was based on a broad plan of setting up state and local credit corporations to act as intermediaries in lending loans to farmers of the affected regions. The results of their study of the question were submitted to the financial representatives of 15 states who met in Washington with Secretary of Agriculture Hyde. Henry M. Robinson of Los Angeles was made chairman of this financial committee, and its meetings continued throughout the week.

Secretary Hyde, who is chairman of the general drought relief committee, presented a report from the American Railway association showing that the railroads already had transported 635 carloads of feed and live stock at special half-rates which were put into effect in the affected areas. Most of the hauling thus far has been in Virginia, West Virginia, Ohio, and Maryland.

Mr. Hyde also announced the appointment of a federal "co-ordination committee" which will assist the federal and state committees in their work. C. W. Warburton of the extension bureau of the Department of Agriculture will head the group.

An optimistic note in the general agricultural picture was seen in the agriculture department report that farmers intend seeding 4.5 per cent less winter wheat this season than last year. The State Democratic council of Kansas lined itself up with Governor Reed, adopting a resolution "any crop which can be produced with profit in 1930 is good."

PRESIDENT HOOVER was gradually making up the new federal tariff board. First he named as its chairman Henry P. Fletcher, Pennsylvania Republican and former diplomat, and then he selected for membership Thomas Walker Page of Virginia, a Democrat and a widely known economist. Mr. Page, who is sixty-four years old, served on the original tariff board under President Taft, and also on the tariff commission under Presidents Wilson and Harding.

WHILE excited throngs were witnessing the national air races at Chicago, gushing at the extraordinary stunt flying and staring at the notable figures of aviation gathered there, four aviators from Germany completed a flight from Berlin to New York in six hours. Some time ago they had reached Lehigh, and after delay there they flew on to Greenland, then to Labrador and Halifax, and finally to New York harbor. Their leader is Capt. Wolfgang von Gronau and their plane is a Dornier-Walsh flying boat. The first four accidents at air races occurred when Lieut. Jack P. De Shazo, a navy flyer, crashed, killing himself and a concession holder at the port.

THOUGH the attacks of the Afride on Peshawar have been repulsed, the danger to the British on the north-west frontier of India is not removed. The Waziris to the southwest have become active and many encounters are reported. While conferring with the mullahs of one band of tribesmen, an English captain was shot in the back and in the ensuing fight eight of his men and thirty-two of the natives were killed.
Mahatma Gandhi's peace terms were still under consideration, but there seemed little hope of their acceptance or their attainment.

COLLAPSE of the northern rebel alliance against the Nationalist government of China seemed imminent, if dispatches from Shanghai could be relied on, and President Chiang Kai-shek was preparing for an early drive toward Tientsin.

The Nationalist government, upon the instructions of General Chiang, issued an order granting amnesty to all officers of the northern coalition, excepting Generals Yen and Feng, the event they professed allegiance to the central government and would renounce their connections with the rebel leaders of the north.

DEATH was busy among well known persons during the week. Among those who passed away were Lon Chaney, star of the screen; Frank O. Wetmore, dean of Chicago bankers; Thomas Sterling, former senator from South Dakota; W. R. Spillman, chief postal inspector; J. R. Gordon, president of the Emergency Fleet corporation; Rev. Dr. David G. Wylie, president of the Lord's Day alliance; G. M. Saltzberger, former-commissioner of pensions; Edward F. Morris, New York capitalist, and Justice E. Ray

Stevens of the Wisconsin Supreme court.

PREMIER Walery Slawek of Poland and his cabinet resigned because of disputes with the parliament, and President Moscicki called on Marshal Pilsudski to form a new government. So that veteran "strong man" is again the nominal as well as the virtual boss of his country.

No Place Like Home

A person is hurt every 30 seconds in the American home. The trouble is that it is where the jaywalkers, the care-free youngsters who race for crossings, the idiot who takes the wrong side of the street, the daredevils at intersections, the morons on the wheel, the drunk drivers, the aged, the babies that play in the street, the sent-minded, the fellows who race through signals, the near-sighted, the road hogs, the slow folks, folks who are just learning to drive, the children who are too young to get a license, the careless, the incompetent, the scamp who gets mad, all live—Los Angeles Times.

Bid for Fame

The late Luther Burbank said one day to a Los Angeles reporter: "Almost any man can succeed if his aim is a good one. Too many men adopt bad aims."
"A long-haired musician rushed in to the kitchen and said to his wife: 'At last, love, I have fame within my grasp.'"
"How so?" the poor woman asked, and she looked up at him from the washbowl rather skeptically.
"You know Mendelssohn's 'Wedding March'?"
"Yes."
"Well, I'm going to write a 'Divorce March'!"

Originated in Germany

Skat, a card game now known throughout the world, originated in Altenberg, Germany, in 1821, writes George P. Hambrecht in the Wisconsin State Journal. Up to 1815 the Italian game of tarock held full sway over the card-playing public in their clubs and societies in Germany, but in that year tarock began to be replaced by schafkopf, which became the nucleus of the modern skat.

Mrs. Eva Reagan, wife of the late Robert Reagan, has cast her hat into the political ring and is running for the office of Register of Deeds on slips on the Republican ticket. She says she has had experience in clerical work and hopes to get elected. She is making a campaign to get votes. She has served as a member of the Village Council where she made a good record. Campaigning for votes, however, she says, is new to her and doesn't know how good a campaigner she can be. We predict that her adversaries will have to look to their laurels if they hope to win against her. They are Andy Hart, the present incumbent, and Oliver E. Scott of South Branch township. Also Leo Schram, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Schram, is running on slips for the same office on the Democratic ticket. He will have no opposition in the primary election.

of feathers on some and the rather rakish single feather on others, plus gold braid—words and guns—adds to an already interesting picture. No hurry for me to get off—why get mixed in that hot crowd when I can sit here on an upper deck—and enjoy the only lavies worth seeing—real people—doing real things. See the trunks go down on the backs of the sturdy porters—How can people endure the bother of so many trunks? My bags are a blessed nuisance—no need of half the stuff I have packed in them either I'll wager.

Down the gangplank—no face I know in the hundreds that press the ropes. An old lady grasps me by the shoulders and peers into my face. She is disappointed—she is weeping. I do not belong to her—I could almost wish that I did!

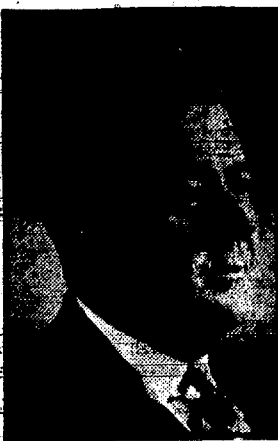

Here comes a porter—handsome fellow—all white and gold braid—you'd think him the commander-of-a fleet. He steers me past a bit of red tape by declaring emphatically that I do not "smoke the cigarette," the customs officer—favorably impressed with this news puts his little white chalk mark on my bags without disturbing a strap—I'm lucky to draw such a porter or officer or both—for there is a woman with every earthly thing in view and most of it falling onto the floor from this narrow table—should I have brought along cans of my favorite brand of coffee as did this woman? Bless your heart, she has some apples with her too!

In excellent English, the Porteg inquires of my hotel—so does an officer. They seem to think it important—as a matter of fact I haven't thought of it—partly because I've been too interested in other things—but mostly because I'm to join a group of Harvard friends—over here on the Mitom grants from the University to do research in the University cities of Italy—one of my old friends should put in an appearance soon.

This much information given the officer he assures me the best thing to do is to put my bags anywhere along the wall—"They will be perfectly safe in any government building," he declares and advises me to go around in the crowd where I please—I do—Officers touch my arm from time to time and inquire where I am going and why—quietly and courteously but definitely none the less. Passport in hand I move about without difficulty however.

At last—here is Antonette Forin nacci and the doctor and Marion. Everybody happy—A horse or a taxi? A carriage of course—Do I prefer a balcony? Of course—then it must be Parkers Hotel. I am lucky enough to draw the balcony room facing the bay—Vesuvius—everything—its a gorgeous view! Didn't notice the room for quite some time—I inspect it. It is larger than I need—light green tile floor—nine pieces of furniture—linen sheets and pillow cases—common I guess in all hotels in Europe—but the view! I am so high—below me the gardens, then the bay directly in front—Vesuvius on the right. It is perfect! Some way Vesuvius and its constant column of smoke is so much larger than I expected—so is the Bay of Naples and the heights of the city. Wonderful to have really even more enchanting than you have painted it in your

I wish to thank the people of Crawford County for the good will they have shown me by electing me to the office of Register of Deeds for the past twelve years. This is truly appreciated.

During this time I have served the public conscientiously and, I believe, well. All records have been entered into the books in typewriting and every page is easily legible and accurate.

FOR GOVERNOR

—vote for

WILBER M. BRUCKER

—saved $3,000,000 for the people in the Bell Telephone case.

—cut the costs of Woodward Avenue widening by $1,000,000.

—collected $3,000,000 worth of "bad debts" for the state.

—curbed the "loan shark" business.

—prosecuted the House of David case.

—won the lake level case, that will eventually make Michigan ports seaports.

He has devoted his life to service for Michigan

The record of Wilber M. Brucker has been a record of true public service—of full-time, whole-hearted service to the people of Michigan.

Consistently—since he has held office for the State—all his effort and talent and time have been devoted to the State—to Michigan interests, Michigan welfare, Michigan advancement! Private practice and personal business have found no place in his long and distinguished public career.

A University of Michigan graduate—and member of a Michigan division during the World War—Mr. Brucker first served the people in the role of assistant prosecutor and later, prosecutor of Saginaw county. In this capacity, he soon became known as one of the outstanding prosecutors in Michigan.

As assistant Attorney General, he attracted widespread praise because of his effective work in the notorious House of David case.

And later, as Attorney General, he realized the full scope of his abilities with a series of unusual legal and administrative achievements—thwarting the famous "Chicago water steal"—sustaining the negligent homicide act—winning the State's radio case—and making the Telephone company submit to state legislation.

Obviously—your vote for Wilber M. Brucker will be a vote for Michigan, because Wilber M. Brucker has devoted his life to serving the people of Michigan. He is, above all, the people's candidate—your candidate for governor.

"Voters of the 28th senatorial district have an opportunity to do well for themselves by sending Herman N. Butler of East Tawas to Lansing as their representative in the Michigan Senate.
